PRESIDENT ANSWERS CHARGES ON IRISH SITUATION

CLAIMS PEACE PARLEY HAD NO JURISDICTION OVER PROBLEM

Insists Article 11 of Covenant Safeguards Rights of Ireland.

SERIES OF ANSWERS

Replies Sent to San Francisco Labor Council to Meet Pact Objections.

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17.—President Wilson this afternoon sent a series of specific replies to the San Francisco labor council, in which he designs to meet certain objections to the treaty.

For the first time he has specifically taken notice of the charges made that he failed to take proper consideration of the Irish situation. The president declares that the conference at Paris could not consider Ireland as the problem there was essentially one over which it had no jurisdiction. However, the president insists specifically that article 11 safeguards the rights of Ireland.

The questions and answers are as follows:
(1)—Under the covenant does this nation obligate itself to assist any member of the league in putting down a rebellion of its subjects or conquered people?

Answer—It does not.
(2)—Under the covenant, can this nation independently recognize a government whose people seek to achieve or have achieved their independence from a member of the league?

Answer—The independent action of the government of the United States in a matter of this kind is in no way limited or affected by the covenant of the league of nations.

(3)—Under the covenant are those subject nations or peoples only that

FAMOUS ORATOR TO SPEAK IN CITY ON DRY ISSUES IN OCT.

Col. Dan Morgan Smith,
Southern Man, Accepts Invitation.

BIG RALLY IS PLANNED

William Jennings Bryan Also
May Make Address
Here.

Colonel Dan Morgan Smith, famous southern dry orator, will deliver an address in East Liverpool early in October, Thomas Hindle, president of the Columbiana County Dry organization, announced Wednesday.

Tentative plans for the coming of Col. Smith were perfected at a meeting of the executives of the East Liverpool Dry Federation Tuesday night in the First Methodist Protestant church. The exact date for Colonel Smith's appearance here as not yet been fixed. He will speak in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

It is the plan of the dry executives to make the coming of Col. Smith to this city the occasion for a mass meeting for former service men of this district. Col. Smith commanded and trained a detachment of troops in a southern army cantonment and led them across the Atlantic.

An effort is being made to include East Liverpool on the itinerary of former Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan, who plans a state-wide tour of Ohio in the interests of the dry forces in October. Mr. Bryan will cross Mahoning and Columbiana counties about the middle of October. He is tentatively scheduled to speak in Salem and Leontina.

Completion of East Liverpool's dry organization will be the object of a general meeting of dry workers next Tuesday night in the First Methodist Protestant church. An invitation has been extended to Crusade Union, W. C. T. U., ministers and superintendents of all local churches to attend the meeting.

TO CIRCULATE PETITIONS FOR HOTEL FRIDAY

Signatures Will Be Sought On 75 Papers In Potteries.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Taxes On Hotel Would More Than Meet City's Interest.

If plans of the Chamber of Commerce for a whirlwind circulation of 75 petitions Friday seeking a sentiment of the public on the proposed leasing of the city site, West Sixth street, for hotel purposes, materialize, a formal appeal sanctioned by a majority of East Liverpool's 5,000 electors will be filed with city council at its meeting next Monday night.

It is the plan of the Chamber of Commerce and other advocates of the proposition to circulate the 75 petitions simultaneously in every manufacturing plant in the city, among the business men and other channels through which electors may be reached. Pottery manufacturers have agreed to devote a part of the day to floating the appeal in their respective works, while a committee of merchants headed by D. M. Oslivie will supervise the circulation of the petition in the downtown business district.

A statement made by J. S. Hilbert, member of the Chamber of Commerce hotel committee at a recent conference with members of city council that the tax returns on the new hotel would more than meet the interest on the bonds was borne out by City Auditor John T. Burns Wednesday. The city's share of taxes, on the structure alone would total more than $2,000 a year, the interest on the capital investment, Burns said.

Here is the wording of the petition to be submitted to city council Monday night:

"To the Honorable City Council, East Liverpool, Ohio.

"Recognizing the need of a first-class hotel for this city, and the difficulty of interesting investors and the

DECISION ON STRIKE ORDER EXPECTED AT PITTSBURGH SESSION

Unless United States Steel Corporation
Accedes to Demands of Workers, Walkout Order Will Stand, Says John Fitzpatrick,
Chairman of National Committee.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—Whether the organized steel workers of the country as well as all the members of allied trades employed in the steel plants would go out on strike next Monday or await the outcome of the industrial conference called by President Wilson for October 6, was to be determined at a meeting here today of representatives of 24 international unions and the national committee appointed by the American Federation of Labor to organize the steel industry.

There was some disappointment because President Samuel Gompers of the federation, could not be present.

There was also a report that Gompers had counseled against "direct action" until after the conference with the president. The expressed sentiment of the labor leaders before the meeting opened was that the strike call would stand. It was admitted, however, that several of the steel men want a postponement.

Perfect Plans for Walkout

The meeting was called to order shortly after 11 o'clock. Twenty-two of the 24 heads of international unions were present when John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national committee, had the doors closed. The meeting is an executive one and the committeemen thought it would be lengthy. It was learned that a resolution had been prepared to make the strike vote unanimous.

Before he went into the meeting Chairman Fitzpatrick said that unless a last minute telegram is received from E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, according to the demands of the steel workers for the right of collective bargaining, an eight-hour day and other minor demands the strike order will stand.

The meeting today, according to Mr. Fitzpatrick, was not for the purpose of taking a vote on whether or not to defer the strike, but to perfect arrangements for carrying the strike order into effect. He said he knew of no request from any source to postpone the strike, although he was familiar with the wish of President Wilson that all labor disputes be held in abeyance pending the industrial conference.

Bitter Attack Upon Gary

"What is the opinion of labor leaders in the steel industry as to the possibility of the strike being deferred?" Mr. Fitzpatrick was asked.

"These men are not weathervanes," replied Fitzpatrick. "They do not veer around with every wind that blows."
Mr. Fitzpatrick was bitter in his denunciation of the methods alleged to have been used to prevent steel workers from organizing. "In the last 15 days," he declared, "seven of our organizers have been murdered. Gary's thugs are responsible for this. There is no room in the United States for Gary and his thugs on the one hand and the unions on the other. One will have to go and that will be Gary."

Asked if the attitude of President Gompers was not neutral in the threatened strike, Fitzpatrick replied that Mr. Gompers' "silence speaks strength" in the present situation.

Andrew Furuseth, of San Francisco, president of the Seamen's union, thought that a strike in the transportation end of the industry might delay the resumption of work.

"If the demands of the men should be met," said Mr. Furuseth, "the supply of ore would have been shut off and the men would be without material with which to work when they return."

DEATH TOLL OF 252 IN GULF COAST STORM

State and Municipal Authorities and Relief Workers In Texas Say List Will Be Increased When All Reports Are Received.

SITON, Tex., Sept. 17.—After a survey of the situation, Mayor Sparks stated today that the death list in the gulf storm would total more than 250 in Sinton and Corpus Christi alone. This does not include Rockport, Robstown, Aransas Pass, White Point and other small towns where there is known to have been heavy loss of life.

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 17.—Figures compiled early today following interrupted wire communication with eight towns and cities along the storm-swept Texas gulf coast place the number of known dead, killed in the tornado which swept the Texas shore, Sunday, at 252.

State and municipal authorities and relief workers say this number will be greatly increased as wire communication is re-established with numerous sparsely populated coast villages which have been completely cut off from the outside world since Sunday. Telephone and telegraphic communication with the storm region was restored temporarily during the night and from flashes received here the following list of dead was compiled:

Sinton, Tex., 75.
Portland, Tex., 56.
Corpus Christi, Tex., 47.
White Point, Tex., 29.
Rosita, Tex., 27.
Port Aransas, Tex., 6.
Aransas Pass, Tex., 4.
Rockport, Tex., 8.
A message reaching here during the night from Havana, Cuba, stated that 30 persons lost their lives when the tidal wave struck that city.
Twenty men at the government rest camp for soldiers at Corpus Christi were among those killed, according to one report. The soldiers were from units stationed at Brownsville, Tex. Captain B. M. Edgel, who was in command of the rest camp, is believed to have been lost with these men. His wife is reported also to have been drowned.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—One hundred and fifty persons are estimated to be dead and 4,000 are homeless with a property loss of $10,000,000 in the Corpus Christi district of the storm-torn west general coast region

FILMING OF CITY IS UNDER WAY

Mortimer M. Flanders, Cameraman for Waterways League, Is On Job in East Liverpool.

Actual filming of East Liverpool and this section of the Ohio Valley as a part of the inland waterways educational film being taken under the auspices of the Waterways League was begun Wednesday morning by Mortimer M. Flanders, official cameraman for the league.

The scenario for the film was tentatively framed Wednesday morning by Cinematographer Flanders, with the assistance of R. E. Spencer, H. B. Barth and W. L. Lewis. A pretty little story woven around one of East Liverpool's oldest residents as "grandpa," his "grandson" and the lad's dog, will be featured in the film.

The grandfather will be pictured as telling his little grandson the story of East Liverpool from the date of its founding up to the present time. In this connection will be depicted the city's industrial growth and its waterways facilities.

Taking advantage of the ideal weather, Photographer Flanders unlimbered his movie camera and started actual "shooting" of the scenes Wednesday afternoon. Included in his party were Spencer, Barth and Lewis who will act as guides to the many points of interest in this vicinity. A view of the Ohio river looking west from the bend in the Lincoln highway on the Pleasant Heights hill, showing the two bends in the river, Newell, the government lock and a part of Wellsville was the first scene snapped.

A view of three states from Huston's hill, a panoramic view of East Liverpool, a trip through one of its biggest potteries, a visit to Smith's Ferry and inspection of many points of historical significance in this vicinity will be included in the early plans of the photographer.

In connection with river conditions in this vicinity, Flanders will film scenes tending to show the development of the Ohio river as a medium of transportation from the day of the Indian canoe, the later use of the rude raft, the crude ferry system, early steamboat travel and up to the present high development of the river packet. In order to visualize this trend of the river, Flanders intends to visit the length of the Ohio river from its source at the intersection of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers at Pittsburgh to its mouth at the Mississippi. The old mangers and ice breakers near here, the government locks along its course, the dry docks at Point Pleasant, the floating dry

PEOPLE DON'T WANT LEAGUE

Senator Borah Says Middle West Is Against Plan.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—"A majority of the people of the middle west have come to the conclusion, in my judgment, that they don't want any league of nations at all," Senator Borah, Progressive Republican of Idaho, and a member of the senate foreign relations committee, declared today upon his return from a five-day speaking tour in that section of the country.

Senator Borah also asserted that 85 per cent, or even more, of the people of the middle west are strongly in favor of the Lodge reservations to the treaty with Germany, which were reported by a majority of the foreign relations committee to the senate.

"I traveled through the middle west for five days and my deliberate judgment is that the tide is running strong against the idea of the United States being involved in the league of nations at all," Senator Borah said.

PERSHING BOYS IN WASHINGTON

Famous First Division Cheer- ed In Parade In National Capital.

By A. L. BRAWFORD.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The first division of world war fame this afternoon achieved its final and greatest triumph.

Led by General John J. Pershing, the first division first in France, first to fight, but last to return—swinging along immortal Pennsylvania avenue with the rhythm of a delicately balanced poem, reached the hearts of the national capital, and passed into its glorious chapter in history.

For the hundreds of thousands who saw it, the spectacle of this great force of militant democracy in review created one of those rare occasions in the lives of men and women when the blood, with a leap, surges through the veins, tears of elated emotion escape restraint and thoughts are amid the clouds.

Wild went the capital. Had the unbroken roar of acclaim material force, "Black Jack" and the five mile column, infantry, artillery and all would have been lifted as on the crest of a great wave and carried along before the four hundred thousand men, women and children who were massed along the parade route from the peace monument, past the white house, packing grand stands, bulging from every window, clinging from trees and lamp posts, jamming the sidewalks and the roofs and perched on each "other's" shoulders.

Waiving gracefully and slightly ahead of the fourth full general of the United States, beautiful young women, with artistically designed flower baskets over their arms, strewed a wilderness of blossoms along the broad reaches of Pennsylvania avenue in the path of Pershing and his oncoming men as Grecian maids would welcome the victors of the Olympian games of old. This action typified the homage that the crowd made every effort to pay to Pershing and the first.

And at the very head of the "Fighting First" rode Pershing, erect upon his mount "Jeff" who waltzed along to the blare of victory music as if he fully realized his own importance. This proud horse was presented to the commander by Jefferson Feigl, Post of War Veterans, Jefferson Feigl of the 17th field artillery, being the American officer killed in France.

of Texas, according to a report received this afternoon at headquarters here of the Red Cross from Dr. Herbert Caldwell, a Red Cross physician at Corpus Christi.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—Governor Coolidge today issued an appeal to the people of Massachusetts for financial assistance for the people of Texas, victims of the hurricane which cost many lives. Such aid is to be extended through the Red Cross. The governor's appeal followed receipt of a letter from Mayor Boone of Corpus Christi, describing the plight of the citizens of that community.

Refugees arriving here during the night say the death list will probably be increased by several hundred as bodies of victims are being found many miles from their homes. Relief workers however, say relief parties are scouring the country thoroughly and do not expect the death list to exceed 300.

The property damage will run into millions, some placing the figure at the present time at $25,000,000. This does not include the loss of cattle. Already a number of ranchers have reported entire herds of cattle numbering several thousand lost. It will be several days before an accurate estimate of the property and live stock loss can be made.

The Red Cross and volunteer organizations are working untiringly to care for the homeless and destitute. Fully 8,000 are said to be homeless in Corpus Christi alone. Other cities in the storm zone report hundreds helpless and relief organizations are being taxed to their utmost to care for these.

From stories told by those rescued after battling with the water and wind for 12 to 34 hours, it is known that one of the hotels on the beach at Corpus Christi was destroyed and that practically the entire residential section of the north beach was wiped out.

These refugees say the big wave struck the town about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the water rising four feet in less than ten minutes. This was followed in a few minutes by a larger wave which washed houses from their foundations. A house torn from its foundation would be carried on the crest of the huge wave like a battering ram against a nearby structure and both would crumble.

JOHNSON HURLS DIRECT DEFY TO PRESIDENT

Declares Choice Is Between League of Nations and Americanism.

CHEERED BY CROWD

California Senator Is Speaker at Sioux Falls Meet- ing.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Sept. 17.—Senator Hiram Johnson of California, speaking before an audience that in size nearly equaled that which greeted President Wilson on his recent visit here, hurled a direct challenge to the president when he declared that "the choice is not between the league of nations and Germanism, but between the league of nations and Americanism."

The president in his address here had stated that the people had to choose between the league of nations and Germanism.

The crowd in the city auditorium at times was plainly enthusiastic and many say, surpassed in enthusiasm that which listened to President Wilson.

Referring to the president's statement regarding the league of nations, Senator Johnson said:

"The choice is between Mr. Wilson's internationalism which subordinates and subjects Americanism to European and Asiatic power and the Americanism that has been ours for 140 years.

"He (Mr. Wilson) has outgrown the government that has been ours for 140 years. We have not. He has made a fundamental choice of a government with his league. We are still Americans. We insist that the government of Washington and of Lincoln and of Roosevelt shall not be superseded by an overlordship of eight foreign nations, or by a super government in which our voice will be but one of nine."

Commenting upon the president's insistence that the treaty be ratified immediately, Senator Johnson said:

"The only country that has so far ratified the treaty is Great Britain. France, Italy and Japan have not yet acted. All four of these nations get enormous gains. The only country which takes burdens alone is our country. Since three of these nations have not ratified the treaty, why should we be in haste to act?"

"It is the old, old story; it is the old, old way of endeavoring to bully and bludgeon us into action and to get this thing passed before you know and the American people know what it means."

CROSSER AND WHITE IN CITY

State Representative and Senator Speak Here Wednesday Night.

At the request of union tradesmen of the East Liverpool district, State Senator C. A. White and Representative E. M. Prosser, both of Lisbon, will explain before Trades and Labor council Wednesday night the workings of the proposed state constabulary bill now pending before the Ohio assembly.

Organized labor in Ohio, it is stated, has taken a decided stand against the measure. The bill slated for introduction in the state assembly early this term but was sidetracked. Advocates of the bill are planning to present it at the December session of the state legislature.

Before East Liverpool's trades body will utter an opinion on the measure it was decided to invite the two state legislators from this district to explain the measure before the body.

POLICE JOIN LODGE FRIDAY

Every member of the East Liverpool police department, including Chief of Police Hugh McDermott and Captain George Toland, will affiliate Friday afternoon with the Fraternal Order of Police.

Arrangements have been completed for the initiation of the entire department, with the exception of Patrolmen Cornelius Buton, William Lister and C. D. Hissam, Friday afternoon at city hall. Finch, secretary of Steubenville lodge, No. 25, Fraternal Order of Police, are expected to arrive here Friday afternoon to supervise the initiation ceremony.

ROBERT McCORD AGED 70, DEAD

Robert McCord, Aged 70, former resident of this city, died at his home in Pittsburgh Monday morning, according to word received by local friends.

Deceased was the son of the late Robert McCord and was born in Steubenville. At the age of 14 he joined the army and served in the Civil war, being honorably discharged at its conclusion. Later he learned the newspaper business, being first engaged in that work at Steubenville, later coming to Wellsville where his brother William McCord was employed. The two brothers then associated themselves with the East Liverpool Review where they were employed for a number of years, finally leaving for Pittsburgh where they were employed at the time of Robert McCord's death.

He was a member of the Central Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh and also a member of the G. A. R. post there. His wife, a daughter and three sisters, Mrs. H. M. Steele, of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Lewis Wells and Miss Margaret McCord, of Steubenville, survive him.

Funeral services were held from the late home in Pittsburgh Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A number of his former friends from Steubenville, Mingo and other valley points attended the funeral.

APPEALS FOR BETTER ROADS

With the election of the new board of county commissioners of Jefferson county at Steubenville Monday, requests have been pouring in from all sections of the county for improved highways.

New members of the board believe that the people of Jefferson county want improved highways in preference to all other improvements and they also state that the board is willing to map out an extensive road building campaign.

If the campaign is put through, the road from Toronto to Yellow Creek, connecting with Wellsville thoroughfares will be one of the first considerations, it is believed. The improvement of the river road, as it has been termed, has been under consideration for a long time. It will be necessary, however, in order to begin the road-improvement campaign, to make a levy for this purpose and several members of the board have stated their preference for a two mill levy which may be put to the vote of the people at the general election.

A program of addresses, readings and musical selections will be given at the meeting of the Yellow Creek grange Thursday night, Frank E. Betz of Salem, deputy state master of the grange, will be in charge of the exemplification work.

Stomach and digestion in bad condition. Sour stomach and would belch up sour matter. I could not find anything to relieve these ailments until I purchased a bottle of Nerv-Worth which I took regularly as directed, and I can say now that I AM ENTIRELY RELIEVED of these pains. MUSICAL PROGRAM IS FEATURED AT PICNIC

Vocal selections by the famous Orpheus male quartet, solos by Miss Frances Whitacre and a recitation by Mrs. D. A. Moulton were some of the features of the picnic enjoyed by about 300 members of the Men's club of the First Presbyterian church on the Chalmers McIntosh farm Tuesday night.

But the big features of the affair, according to a vote of thanks tendered the social committee at the conclusion of festivities, were the consumption of several hundred roast ears, two or three dozen of water-melons and about 500 or more wieners.

Prof. E. J. Stonebreaker, principal of the local high school, made an address on "The League of Nations."

CLEAN-UP DAYS.

As a result of the promise of financial help from council, a general clean-up of streets, alleys and back yards will be made in East Liverpool as a move to lessen the likelihood of a recurrence of the dread influenza epidemic this fall and winter.

Although definite plans in connection with the movement have not been completed, the health board, under whose direction the clean-up will be made, undoubtedly will designate two or three days or perhaps a week, when an appeal will be made to all residents to clean out attics, cellars and out-of-the-way places where disease germs are likely to be found. Refuse will be collected and hauled away by city teams, if tentative plans are put into effect.

This is a move in the right direction, irrespective of the expense—and it is not believed the cost of a clean-up will be more than $500. Experts agree that the awful toll exacted by the influenza epidemic last fall would have been reduced had proper attention to sanitary conditions and civic cleanliness been given.

And speaking about clean-up days, it is not a bad idea to have an annual observance, for, aside from the importance from a health standpoint, these campaigns tend to instill civic pride in the hearts of the people. And clean streets, alleys and back yards do not give visitors a bad impression of a city.

Money used in movements of this kind is wisely expended.

THOSE WAR FORTUNES.

The United States, as everybody knows, is full of war fortunes. It is absurd to say, as envious radicals have often said, that the rich drove the country into war, for the profit there was in it. But it is certain that the conflict increased the wealth of the rich, and more than that, brought wealth to great numbers of citizens who had formerly been merely well-to-do.

It has been estimated that there are 17,000 "war millionaires." There are probably tens of thousands who have risen all at once to the half-million class.

It is this great multiplication of moderate-sized fortunes—and a million must now be reckoned as moderate—which is the most remarkable result of war business.

A prominent investment banker remarks that it would be unfair, in spite of the enormous war profits made, and the enormous increase in the volume of wealth, to assume a very great percentage of "profiteers." He explains:

"Many men had this wealth literally forced on them. Men who perhaps had hoped to accumulate $100,000 during their lifetime have gone past this mark without recognizing it or remembering they had it until they found themselves in the millionaire class. They were flooded with orders which could not be taken care of by the large concerns in the established trade channels, so while many men and many concerns, wealthy and prosperous before the war, have accumulated a surplus of 100 per cent during the past five years, the small manufacturer has become the equal in wealth of his former leaders and has perhaps added several thousand per cent to his original surplus and capital.

"We have seen the small investor make many thousand per cent on his securities, bought for income purposes, because he happened to own shares in a small rather than a large corporation."

Those who had millions before we entered the war naturally made a great deal of additional money; but they did not increase their fortunes at anywhere near the rate of those whose fortunes were small to begin with. The war proved to be essentially the opportunity of the small business man and small capitalist. Thus it might be called a democratic war even in its distribution of profits.

In almost every industrial community in the United States there are manufacturing concerns that were unknown before the war, which are now big and highly respected, and which have made a good deal more money on their capitalization than the United States Steel Trust, or than even those paragons of war prosperity, Bethlehem Steel and General Motors.

OLD POST ROAD MADE NEW.

Automobile truck and tourist traffic is stimulating the improvement of many of the old pikes and post roads which had been abandoned or fallen into disrepair as the railroads developed their keen competition with the stage-coach. One of the most interesting improvements of this kind is the proposed completion of the old National Pike, a highway laid out in 1820, and planned to extend from the Potomac to the Mississippi.

Part of this old road is already in good condition, but west of the Indiana line it deteriorates into stretches of badly worn macadam or dirt which are impassable for a great portion of the year.

The completion of this road under the federal road act is interesting both from the point of its history and because when completed it will hold the record for length and costliness for some time to come. The pavement is to be monolithic brick and concrete, and is to cost an average sum of $30,000 per mile.

Records have been kept in various localities of the amount of traffic over this old highway in its present condition, and it is found to be approximately 700 motor and 50 horse-drawn vehicles per day, ordinarily, with about 20 motor trucks and 200 passenger automobiles besides, during the summer months.

There can be little doubt of the wisdom of improving such a main traveled road as this. Further investigation will disclose hundreds of such post roads laid out by our forefathers, the importance of which to modern traffic is an eloquent testimonial to the engineering foresight of those old road-builders.

The National Association of Retail Clothiers, after taking counsel for a week as to ways and means of reducing the price of clothing, announced that clothing is going to be higher next spring. Which was to be expected, of course; but why take a week for it?

NEW YORK LETTER

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up betimes and about my papers, having misplaced a cheque, and in a great pet all the morning. F. P. A. in the public prints this day praised the name I gave to him for his forthcoming book of poetry, it being "Something Else Again" and he will use it. The news is that the tenement dwellers have gone on strike and posting up huge signs reading: "This cause is on a Rent Strike." Theland lords, it seems, get scant pity. Through the town and saw Mark Sullivan, the editor and in truth he doth wear turned surmount, finding them equivalent to a new suit. I vowed to try it.

If Leon Yilson and Mistress Wilson are in town from California and he is planning to do a goodly amount of scribbling here. At noon I away in some haste to see and talk to my Lord Young Theodore but was unable to reach his demesne in time. This day my wife engaged a pretty black woman—her name is Mistress Eliza—to do some washing of her soft laces.

V. Porter called and is in some pain of the colic but did eat mightily from my brave basket of pears albeit I held my tongue. Thence with my wife, poor wretch, for a walk around the reservoir and I was so rejoiced in heart at her finding my cheque that we stopped at a diary shop and I bought two large beaters of whey.

In the evening with F. Kelly, the pamphleteer, who told me of the noble book he has writ, and we stopped on Willie Collier who had a comical story that doubled us up with laughter yet I cannot transcribe it my diary. At a collar store F. paid for a collar each with fair grace. And so home to bed.

It is a brisk business they are doing down at the Little Stock Exchange on the Bowery these days. Since the bootleggers have come to the Bowery—the denizens need more money to appease chronic thirsts. Neat bargains are being driven every few minutes. Then too the Bowery almost broke in one night recently. A slick dude from uptown came down with a suit case full of what was supposed to be whiskey.

He had some professional shush-shushers go down in advance and tell of his coming by shushing, smacking their lips and rubbing their stomachs. He sold 500 bottles which proved to be a cheap cough syrup and it nearly exhausted the Bowery's financial resources. A few remittance men who live at the Lodging Houses for Men—those dreary havens for wretches who have whistled down the wind for fortune the gifts that Nature gave—are the only Boweryites who look forward now to a comfortable winter.

Everybody is selling everything they have. Thirds and fourth in knobby straw hats and suits bearing the Klever Kut labels, sewed in by deceitful wearers, and even false teeth are being bartered. Many quarrels have arisen which must be settled by the legal firm of Spivak, Spivak, Spivak and Spivak—known as the Five Little Taits of the Bowery. The only thing that is bright and shiny on the Bowery these days is the Bowery seal—the Three Gilt Balls.

Twenty or more bartenders were arrested by the government agents along the White Way and it looked like prohibition had become a real fact. But only for a day or two and then they sold with the old abandon. If you order sherry now they put ice in it—this is considered a proper dilution. It is said that all the stunts night places have lifted the bans and the knowing may get what they desire.

A New York dime novel publisher declares that Washington, D. C., buys more of his literary treasures than any other city according to size. He also is authority for the statement—that great lawmakers, judges and the like read these thrillers purely for mental recreation.

CALL SERBIA ORPHAN'S LAND

BELGRADE, Sept. 17.—Serbia has emerged from the war a country of orphans. There are 200,000 children who have lost both their parents, and about 100,000 more are bereft of either their fathers or mothers. These figures have been compiled by American Red Cross workers from the latest records of the Serbian Educational department.

In some towns of only 10,000 population there are from 2,000 to 3,000 orphans. The occupation of Serbia for three years by the enemy and the subsequent deportations combined with the great retreat of the army in 1915, carrying some 500,000 civilians in its wake, separated numberless children from their parents.

Red Cross workers visiting towns with relief supplies of food and clothing have found many instances of families attempting to care for two or three children of townspeople who have died or been deported. In other instances groups of children from one or more families have been found living together in ruined houses, the older ones caring for the younger.

"It is not at all uncommon on my morning rounds to find among the new arrivals of the night before at the concentration camps for refugee mothers and children, several who have died of cold and starvation the night before," said Miss Clara Lewis, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., chief of the orphanage at Belgrade.

The Americans working to relieve distress in many orphan centers were at first surprised when mothers refused to be parted from their children so that the latter could be sent to Red Cross hospitals for treatment. But it became understandable when they learned that these same mothers had lost two or three other children by separation in the last three years.

CUPID AIDED BY PATROLMAN

While direction of traffic and preservation of order are the principal duties of the Diamond patrolman, Patrolman Lawrence Kindsvatter was called upon to perform a decidedly new duty this week.

Three couples seeking to brave the turbulent sea of matrimony asked Patrolman Kindsvatter Monday the nearest place to get married. The first couple drove into the Diamond in a large touring car and stopped near Kindsvatter's post while the man leaned out of the car and made the inquiry. The two were directed to Lisbon or New Cumberland. Choosing the West Virginia town the two drove away.

Within a few minutes two other couples confronted Kindsvatter with a similar inquiry. They also stated a preference for Hancock county's Green.

"A man on this beat," declared Kindsvatter, "is asked some funny questions. One man sought the Lincoln highway to Lisbon and in the next breath asked where he could buy a baby doll."

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Multisided cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rises out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided cocoon oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

HALE HAMILTON IN STRAND PHOTOPLAY

Hale Hamilton, the popular young Metro star, will be seen in a dual role of unusual cleverness in "In His Brother's Place," at the Strand theatre Wednesday.

This play, which tells the story of twin brothers who, though invariably alike in personal appearance, have directly opposite ideas on matters of business and life.

J. Barrington Drake, through hard work and untiring effort, has become a powerful financier whose business methods are noted for their dynamic rapidity and masterly success. His brother, Nelson, on the other hand, is a young clergyman who, though beloved by his parish, is low and prosy in methods and is fast losing the attendance of his congregation.

He reaches such a pitch of despair over his failure, as he calls it, that he is at the point of giving up his pulpit. In a burst of self-condemnation he tells his brother of his troubles. J. Barrington at once sees the reason of this and points out that business methods ought to be brought into church affairs.

How he does this and the astonishing results make a play that is filled with unusual and delightful situations.

There is also a dual romance that breathes the fragrance of the old fashioned garden in which it takes place.

Columbus—Owing to the increase in corn disease, the Agriculture College Extension service, in its current bulletin, lays stress on the importance of careful selection of seed corn in the field this fall.

Mabel McKinley—Niece of the Late President of the United States—Takes Nuxated Iron for Health and Strength

And Says She Regards It as The Ideal Tonic For All Weak, Run-Down Nervous Women

Dr. George H. Baker, Formerly Physician and Surgeon Monmouth Memorial Hospital of New Jersey, Explains Why Iron Is One of the GREATEST OF ALL STRENGTH BUILDERS

Says: He has found nothing in his experience so effective for helping to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron.

Every woman who wishes to possess health, strength and beauty, should carefully read the statement of Miss McKinley who, after her personal use of Nuxated Iron tells of the results she obtained.

Miss McKinley says: "While I had often heard of Nuxated Iron I must admit that prior to using it myself I had no idea of its remarkable value for building up the health and strength."

"Following the strain imposed by months of the most exacting work for the soldiers in the various army encampments, together with my social engagements and charitable pursuits, I found myself in such a weakened, run-down state that I feared a complete collapse."

"It seemed utterly impossible for me to drop everything and go away for a complete rest, but I realized that as my condition was serious I must either do this or find something that would actually rebuild my waning strength and enable me to continue my activities."

"I had always been prejudiced against tonic preparations which, for the most part, I found only acted as a temporary stimulant and usually left one worse off than ever. However, when my own family physician insisted recommended that I give a fair trial to Nuxated Iron, I consented to begin its use, with a result that after a few days the weakness and exhaustion from which I suffered began to be replaced by a feeling of renewed strength and vitality. In less than three weeks' time my whole system was tingling with energy and power and I was overjoyed to find that I was once more in superb physical condition."

"Nuxated Iron has accomplished so much for me that I regard it as the ideal tonic for all weak, run-down women. As a strength, health and blood-builder, I am convinced Nuxated Iron has no equal."

In commenting on Miss McKinley's statement, regarding the efficacy of Nuxated Iron, Dr. Ferdinand King, New York

Physician and Medical Author, says: "It is my opinion that in practically nine times out of ten, unstrung nerves and falling strength and vitality are due to deficiency of iron in the blood. Many a woman who is run-down, nervous and who quickly tires out, suffers from iron deficiency and does not know it. I am convinced that there are thousands of such women who, simply by taking Nuxated Iron, might readily build up their red blood corpuscles, increase their physical energy and get themselves back to vibrant and vigorous health. By enriching the blood and increasing its oxygen carrying power, Nuxated Iron will often transform the flabby flesh, toneless tissues, and pallid cheeks of nervous, run-down women into a glow of health, and make them look younger within a surprisingly short time."

Among other physicians asked for an opinion was Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon Monmouth Memorial Hospital, New Jersey, who says: "What women need to put roses in their cheeks and the springtime of life into their step is not cosmetics or stimulating drugs but plenty of rich, pure blood. Without it no woman can do credit to herself or to her work. Iron is one of the greatest of all strength and blood-builders, and I have found nothing in my experience so effective for helping to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron."

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron which is recommended above by physicians is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the older foreign-made iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not irritate the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee, succeed, and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.

Sold in this city by Hodson Drug Co., Jessdon Drug Co. and all other druggists.

TWO GIRLS ARE TAKEN TO JAIL

At a preliminary hearing before Justice Harry M. Maginnis, Clara Bell, a colored girl, charged with the theft of morphine and other drugs from W. B. Barr's drug store, in Weirton, and her companion, Frances Wilson, were bound over to the coming term of Hancock county jury.

The two colored girls were arrested late Saturday evening on complaint of Mr. Barr. The pair had entered the pharmacy and Miss Bell asked permission to go back of the screen and make adjustment of her wearing apparel. Miss Wilson stood back of the counter waiting for her. When Miss Bell appeared she was searched and several packages of morphine found, it is claimed. The two women were taken to the county jail in New Cumberland. They came from Woodlawn, Pa.

failed to give relief, according to the signed testimonial of well known local people who have been benefitted thereby.

Recently the signed statement was received from Miss Jean Hutton, a popular Pittsburgh young lady, who resides at No. 7331 Finance street, who said:

"For many months I had been troubled with rheumatism and nothing I had taken gave me any benefit. My feet and limbs were terribly swollen and gave me great pain, and I could hardly walk from my chair to the table for my meals. I was in a very badly run-down condition. A friend told me of Plant Juice and begged me to try it. I did so, and got so much benefit from the first few doses that I continued to take it, and now can truthfully say that I never felt better; the swelling is gone from my limbs and feet; I am able to do my housework and am glad to recommend Plant Juice to any one suffering with rheumatism."

Plant Juice is sold in East Liverpool at Larkins drug store.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINTY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arzene and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often falls to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arzene say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

BIG COAL LAND DEAL CLOSED

One of the largest coal deals consummated in the Ohio Valley for months, was closed when the Beech Bottom mine of the Richland Coal Company was sold to the West Penn interests of the American Gas and Electric company, it was announced Wednesday.

The deal is said to include the transfer of over four thousand acres of valuable coal land. No intimation of the purchase price would be made by the officials. This in no manner affects other interests of the Richland company, it is said.

In closing the deal it developed that the company is purchasing the coal for consumption at the big Windsor Plant. Although the present production of the mine is said to be about 400,000 tons annually, the new owners will increase production by at least fifty per cent. The tipple is in close proximity to the power plant and can be used advantageously by the West Penn people.

In buying the coal, the company also secured a large surface acreage which will be used for dwelling purposes. The present plans, it is said, call for the erection of fifty houses in the immediate future with the possibility of many more going up within the next year. The acquisition of the property by the West Penn interests means another big boom for Windsor.

Yankee Manager Gives Two Reasons Why Redlegs Will Be Beaten.

PLAY BETTER TEAMS
Believes Long-distance Hitters
of Sox Will Outswat Maramen.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Miller Huggins likes the White Sox in the coming world's series.

The midwest manager of the New York Yankees opines that the Alabaster Hose should defeat the Reds in the October classic for two reasons:

First of all, Hug points out that the Sox have encountered and consistently defeated much better teams all season than the Reds have been called upon to defeat. Secondly, the little manager believes that the long distance hitters of the Sox will outswat the heavy hitters of the Maramen.

Hug is pretty well qualified to make predictions. After years of experience in the National league and several seasons in the American he has had an opportunity to size up the playing in both circuits and make note of the individual qualities of the various teams. But let him tell it here as he recently told it in a moment of inspiration.

"I have little or no sympathy with those who insist that the National league is a minor in comparison with the American as to their respective standards of play," chirped Huggins.

"There is very little difference between the two leagues, and that is the way it should be. The way the fans would have it. But I can truthfully say that there have been more strong teams fighting for the American league pennant this season than has been the case in the national. It has been that way for a number of years.

"This means that Chicago ought to be the better team. The White Sox should be stronger than the Reds on both offense and defense, because they have been up against stronger teams and stiffer competition throughout the season. They have seldom found a soft series.

"Playing so many hard games, I should think, would give the Sox a better balance in a tight series such as the world's series usually is and should be this year. And there is something else in Chicago's favor.

"The hard long-distance hitters in the White Sox batting order should carry a lot of weight in the outcome of the October battle. Eddie Collins, Joe Jackson, Oscar Felsch, who is hitting well again this season; Buck Weaver and Fred McMullen, not to mention Chick Gandil, should make their long hitting felt. John Collins also hits them far away.

"After all is said, you will see that it is the long hitter who breaks up world's series. Men like Baker, Gowdy, Lewis, Hooper, Felsch and Ruth have proven this in past series, and it is my belief that the Sox will show more strength in long hitting than their opponents."

THROW STONES
AFTER LOSING

When Mingo baseball backers evidently sore because their team lost in the inter-city championship series to the Acme club of Steubenville several days ago, began to hurl stones at the Steubenville team and their rooters, from a point of vantage on the hillside, they pulled one of the oldest and meanest tricks in baseball, or any sport for that matter. Their action may result in the severance of athletic relations, it is said.

A Steubenville paper says: A most unsportsmanlike occurrence happened at Mingo yesterday afternoon when a number of Mingo toughs stoned the Steubenville team and rooters, seriously injuring one woman and bruising a number of others, which will probably result in the discontinuing of athletic relations between the two towns. The action of the Mingo toughs without interference of the police, was the worst ever seen in this section.

Immediately following the game a number of boys stationed along the street overlooking Lower Commercial street, which leads from the ball park, began throwing a fusillade of piko stones into the crowd of Steubenville people. The toughs had a commanding position and had the local people at their mercy. Several hundred rocks were thrown into trucks and autos.

Mrs. Charles Russell of Sixth avenue, who was in one of the trucks, was struck on the head by a large stone and rendered unconscious. She was placed in another automobile and rushed to Gill hospital where she did not regain consciousness for several hours. George Devlin was struck on the head and sustained a bad wound, as did several others.

The Steubenville boys combined forces and were ready to give the Mingo toughs a deserved beating but they disappeared over the hills.

WALTER COX IS EASY WINNER

COLUMBUS, Sept. 17.—McGregor the Great, star trotter of the year, won another rich stake here yesterday when he had no difficulty in landing in straight heats the 2-04 trot, the M. and M. purse of $5,000. He had to step faster than 2:05 1/2 to keep in front of Ramco, his nearest competitor.

Prince Loree easily disposed of his field in the Capital City trot, the 2-04 class. Wilkes Brower, the original favorite, broke in the stretch the first two miles. In the third heat he made Prince Loree trot in 2:05 1/2 to win.

Periscope, 3-year-old filly owned by J. H. Dodge of New York, won the three-year-old trot, the Horse Review Futurity, purse $5,000. When Brother Peter took advantage of her stretch break in the first heat and won a long shot went over. There was but one holder of a $5 mutual ticket on him and he cashed to the extent of $432.

The 2-07 class pace was won by John Quirk. The total amount of purses distributed yesterday was $15,000, which was the heaviest day's distribution for the entire meeting.

TAGGING THE BASES

Dutch Reuther pitched the game that removed the Giants from the 1919 race, though he was touched for 12 hits.

The Indians slugged the ball to all corners of the lot and won both games of a double header at Philadelphia. Chapman stole four bases in the first game.

The Brownies lost their sixth straight game, when Walter Johnson allowed them six hits, scattered.

A homer by Maramen and triples by Ford and Carroll gave the Braves an even break with the Cardinals. Sherdell outpitched Scott in the second game.

Billy Southworth's single in the eleventh scored Bigbee with the run that gave the Pirates a victory over Brooklyn.

Ames, trying a comeback with the Phillies, ran into Alexander at Chicago and got the worst of the collision.

OVER THE GARDEN WALL

TAD'S TID-BITS

The following letter is from Jim Coffroth. His choice is Jack Dempsey. Coffroth had more champions fight at his club than any other promoter that ever lived, so the chances are that his pick is pretty good.

DEAR TAD:

Who was the greatest fighter I ever saw? Kind of hard, that one, when you limit us to one, and two of the best are now in the ring—Heavyweight Dempsey and Lightweight Leonard. They would both have licked all that went before them. But as only one must be discussed we will take Jack, as he is the bigger of the two.

Every world's champion from Sullivan's time who lost his title would have lost it in Jk time to this new star. He would have taken John L's measure in two, where Corbett consumed twenty-four rounds; licked Corbett in six, where Fitz rounded out fourteen accomplishing that. Fitzsimmons would have been toppled in one or two and Jeffries in about eight rounds. You know Jeff was a bear for punishment.

Then comes a rather hard one—the big darkey, Johnson. Latter was the world's greatest defensive fighter and would have stood the gaff for sixteen or more rounds. Willard, we know, was bowled over in one round, but incompetent timing and refereeing forced it to three. Why would he have done these things and why is he such a great fighter? Because in his curriculum he was not taught nor did he learn to swing. He hooks with his left and crosses, chops and uppercuts with his right and never misses with either hand. What other champion was as accurate in his hitting, as stiff a puncher? Can he go the route? He doesn't need to. For a long time to come we will not discover whether he is a distance fighter, as his opponents will go out in a round or two.

JAMES W. COFFROTH.

WILLIE MEEHAN'S SWEET TOOTH.

George Bogan, the taxi king of Frisco, met Willie Meehan on Market street the other night and invited him into John's Grill for a bit to eat.

"No thanks," piped Willie. "I just fed and I feel pretty full."

"Well, come and have a bit of something," said Bogan.

Willie followed and said, "Oh, I'll have a bit of dessert, George, while you're eating."

The pair strolled in and after being seated Bogan handed Willie the bill of fare saying: "Here, Will, take a slant at the line of march and see what dessert you'll have."

Willie gave it a good up and down, then tossing it aside said to the waiter: "Bring me a minute steak and fried potatoes."

L'KOUT, HERE COMES F. MORAN

"Small boys and cripples, get back of the ropes!"

Mr. F. Moran, of Pittsburgh, wants some one to hold his coat. He just can't stop fighting. Ever since Francis saw Dempsey muss up Willard he's had a yen to be a fighter again, and now that he is in pretty good shape, intends to start a quarrel.

"I'm right now," said Francis the other day. "I'm a different Moran and if anyone doesn't think so, let them get out a set of the old five-ounce boys and we'll start."

"I've never been knocked out in my life, boy, remember that. Yes, I've been stopped for the moment. Yes, Mr. Fulton and Mr. Savage accomplished the feat, but I never lost consciousness."

"Oh, yes, yes, let me ruminate—I err, err. I recall an argument with a coarse person by the name of Cowler. We were entertaining in a six-round affair one night in New York, and as the chimes sounded at the close of the fourth period, this pugilistic proletarian struck me from behind. I vaguely remember sailing through the air until stopped by a hempen band in Mr. Cowler's corner. I must say truly that for the moment I was hors de combat. I was led by my trusty henchmen to my dugout and two minutes later had Mr. Cowler upon his back admiring the Milky Way through the skylight."

JOHN KILBANE
STOPS BURNS

JERSEY CITY, Sept. 17.—Frankie Burns' dream of winning the featherweight title is but a memory today. Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champ, stopped Burns in the fifth round of a scheduled eight-round bout with a terrific right smash to the jaw here last night. Burns struggled to his feet at the count of nine, but Referee Erie stopped the contest and led him to his corner.

The bout was held at the local baseball park and was witnessed by 45,000 spectators, one of the largest crowds that has ever witnessed a boxing bout in this country. The knockout came immediately after the referee warned Kilbane to do better work at the close of the fourth round. "All right," snapped the featherweight champ, who had evidently intended that the bout should go the full distance, "but I didn't want to hurt this boy."

The knockout came to minutes later.

TROTTER'S

FREE COURSE IN UNIVERSITY

A free scholarship for a three-year course in agriculture at the Ohio State university will be awarded by the Columbiana county farm bureau, John G. Houlette, president of the bureau, announced Wednesday.

Awarding of the scholarship to a Columbiana county resident was approved by Alfred Vivian, dean of the college of agriculture. The plan is in accord with the general policy recently adopted by the university in placing the award of these scholarships in each county at the disposal of county farm bureaus.

The farm bureau will be guided in its selections by the following regulations:

1. The scholarship in each county shall be given to a person who is eligible to admission to the short course in agriculture or home culture of the college of agriculture.

2. The scholarship shall only be given to those persons who have not had the educational advantages of a first or second grade high school.

3. The scholarship shall only be given to a person living on a farm who has spent most of his life there.

4. The recipient must be at least 18 years of age at the time of the beginning of the first term of the short course in agriculture. (Preference will be given to those over 20 years).

5. The scholarship must be used the first year it becomes available.

6. The scholarships are open to both sexes.

7. The scholarships are not transferable.

ginning of the first term of the short course in agriculture. (Preference will be given to those over 20 years).

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

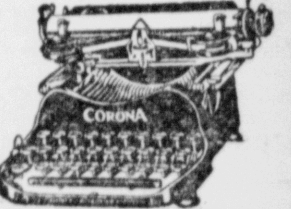

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and blast right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no nausea or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

IRISH TO FIGHT TO SECURE REPUBLIC

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A fight to a knockout to secure a republic in Ireland is promised by A. Griffiths, acting president of the Irish republic, in the absence of Prof. De Valera, according to a Dublin dispatch to the Daily News today. Mr. Griffiths was quoted as saying:

"We demand a republic—not home rule."

DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—Denial that the British government has been sending great numbers of troops, tanks and armored cars into Ireland, presumably for the suppression of the Sinn-Fein was made today by Ian MacPherson, chief secretary for Ireland.

OPPOSE MOVEMENT FOR SHORTER HOURS

COLUMBUS, Sept. 17.—Taking issue with labor unions on the question of shorter hours, the Ohio Federation of Farm Bureaus meeting here says it is "bad in precedent and will be harmful in results." Classification of property is denounced by the delegates who represent 57 Ohio counties.

A resolution was also adopted upholding the Farmers' Co-operative Milk company, of Cleveland, the officers of which were recently indicted. The resolution says: "We believe in the moral integrity of the milk men and believe they are working unselfishly to the betterment of agricultural interests."

SPECIAL SEVEN-REEL PRODUCTION

"LIFE OR HONOR"

A gripping drama presented in a novel way. What is to be done? The question concerns a man's life and a woman's honor. If the one is to be saved, the other is bound to be besmirched. In both cases the parties involved are absolutely innocent. Yet incidents are so clear, beyond dispute, and to all appearance so conclusive are the facts in the case, that a life to be snuffed out if—if the one person who can rectify things will not come forth; yet if he dare do so, it surely means the death of a woman's honor. What is to be done? Well, then, if you must know, see "LIFE OR HONOR"
